

New York State Department of Health

Hospitals of the Future: February 9, 2006

Nursing Homes of the Future: March 9, 2006

Lisa Wickens - Deputy Director, Office of Health Systems Management

Neil Benjamin - Assistant Director, Division of Health Facility Planning

Thomas Jung - Director, Bureau of Architectural & Engineering Facility Planning

Snapshot

- Number of Homes.
- Age of Plant.
- Occupancy.
- Programs.
- Competition for residents.

Factors Driving the Need for Change:

- Availability of alternatives
- Technology
- Consumer Preference & Awareness
- Acuity
- Fiscal Pressures – Providers, Payers, Employers
- Staffing Issues – Cost, Recruitment, Shortages
- Difficulty Navigating the Convolutated System

Factors Specific to Long Term Care

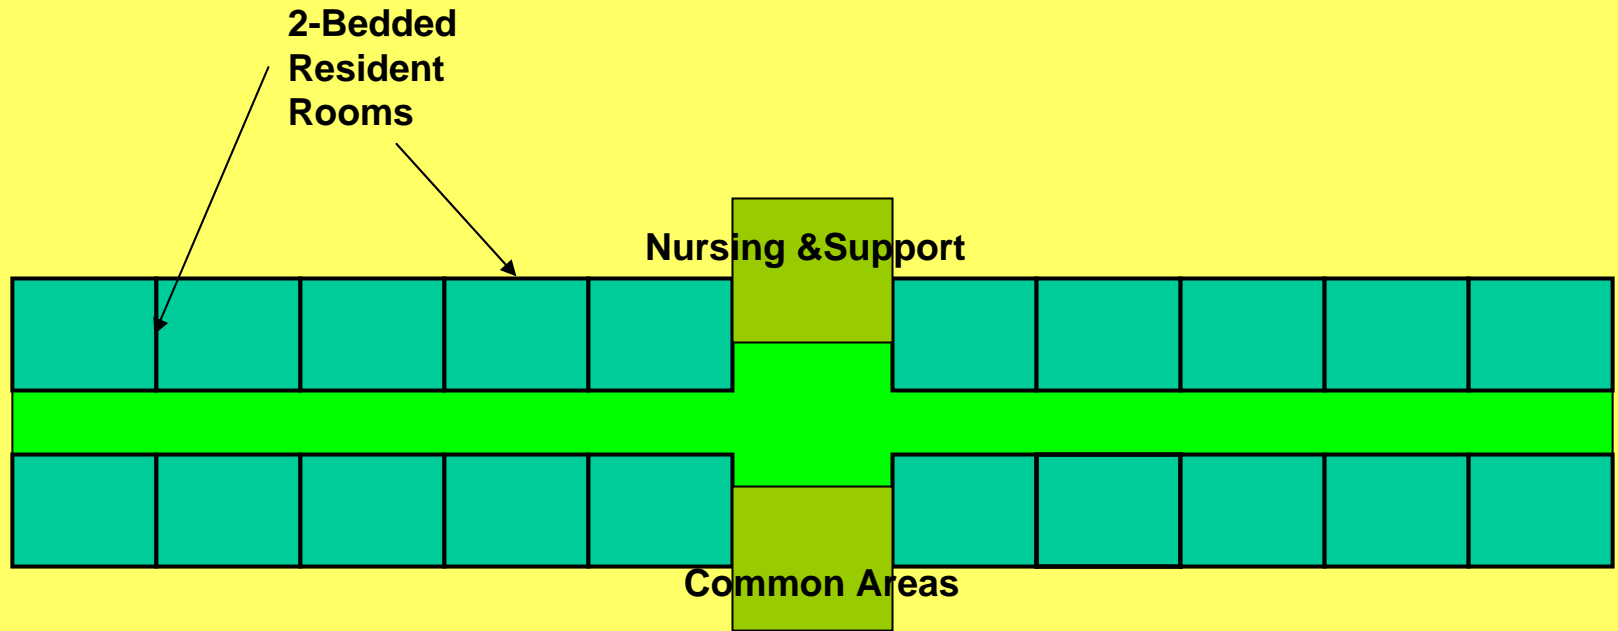

Consumer Preference for Independence, Least Restrictive Setting

- Integration with the Community
- Adaptability for Differing Acuity & Individual Needs
- Specialty Services
- Skilled Nursing homes offering non-institutional alternatives
- Urban vs. Rural distinction

Nursing Home Facilities

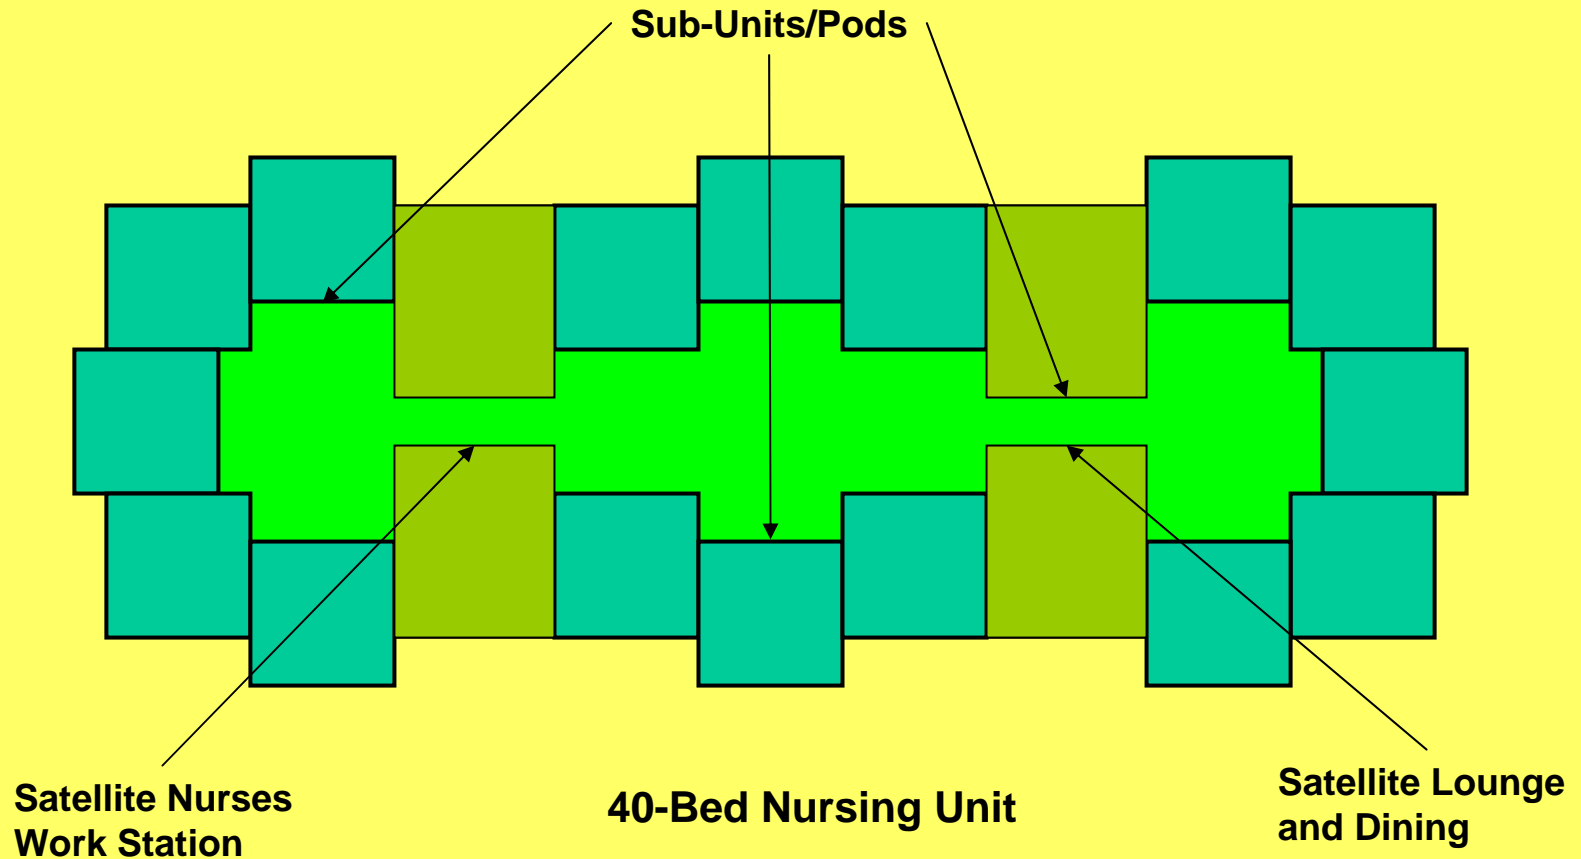

1960-1980 Nursing Homes

40-Bed Nursing Unit

1990's Nursing Homes

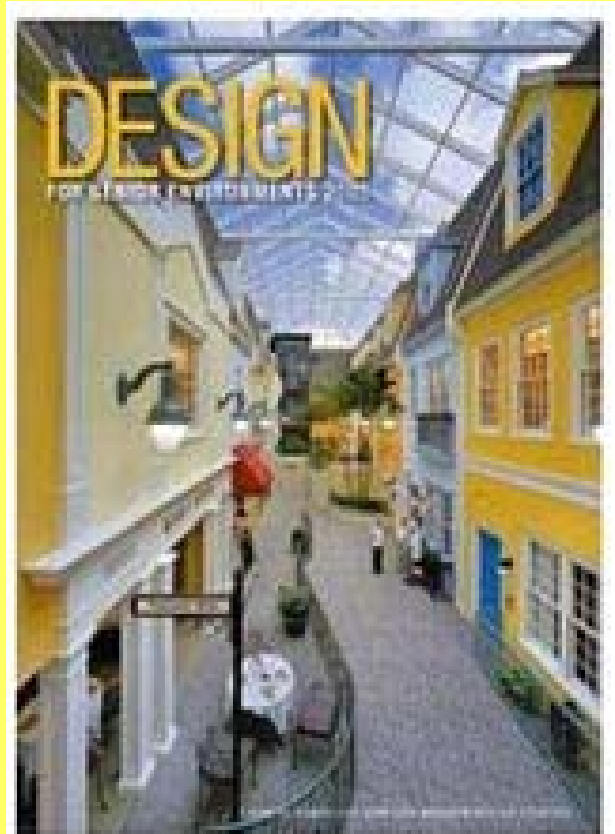

Nursing Homes in the Future

- Resident Centered Care
- Innovative Approaches

Senior Services
Mississippi

- ❖ Household Models
- ❖ Technology
- ❖ Emphasis on Hospitality
- ❖ Adaptable Construction
- ❖ Patient Safety
- ❖ Community Integration

The Forest at Duke

Calloway Johnson Moore & West, P.A.

Photo: © JWestProductions.com

Technology in Nursing Homes

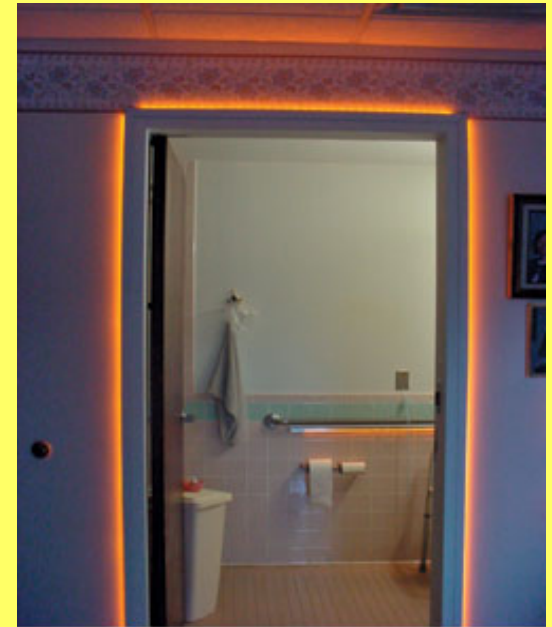

Figure 1.

Schuyler Ridge Residential Health Care, a 120-resident skilled nursing facility in Clifton Park, New York.

Program Initiatives

- Short-term Rehabilitation
 - Though occupancy and length of stay are down, discharges are up
- Special Care Units
 - TBI
 - Behavioral Intervention
 - Bariatric
 - Dementia-Related
 - Dialysis/Ventilator Dependent
 - Pediatric/Ventilator Dependent

Program Initiatives

- Continuum
 - Institutional
 - Non-Institutional
- Baseline Infrastructure Development and Considerations:
 - Senior Housing
 - Support Services
 - Age-Sensitive Considerations
 - Activity Programs
 - Safety in Day to Day Activities

Eden Alternative and Greenhouse Project

- Humanizing Care for the Elderly

~ Dr. William Thomas

Methodist Senior Services, Tupelo, Mississippi - McCarty Company

The Community-at-large

- Sidewalks = Independence

- Clearly mark crosswalks

- Crosswalk signals

Questions?